STOCKHOLM | 23-24 NOVEMBER 2025

Kyiv/Stockholm, 10 July 2025

Your Excellency,

Today, the world is witnessing multiple devastating wars - each bringing immense human suffering and challenging the foundations of the international legal order. Some of these tragedies were preceded by earlier violations that went unanswered. The illegal occupation of Crimea in 2014 and the broader aggression against Ukraine, which started at the same time, became a turning point, signalling that borders could once again be changed by force and that international law could be disregarded with impunity.

This chain of violence must be broken. The occupation of Crimea was not only the beginning of Russia's war against Ukraine - it was the first blow to a system of global security built on respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity. Therefore, any just and lasting peace must begin with the de-occupation of Crimea. Restoring Ukraine's full territorial integrity is a matter of principle and a prerequisite for long-term stability and justice.

Russia continues its war of attrition by devastating Ukrainian cities, displacing millions, and weaponizing fear to undermine global unity. These actions seek to normalize a world governed by coercion and violence rather than by rules and law. In response, the international community must stand united and resolute in defending the values for which humanity has struggled for centuries - dignity, freedom, and justice.

Ukraine is committed to peace and employs every diplomatic tool to achieve it. One such tool is the International Crimea Platform, which brings together governmental, parliamentary, and expert-level cooperation around five key pillars: non-recognition policy, human rights, sanctions, security and freedom of navigation, and the economic and environmental consequences of the occupation.

The first three Parliamentary Summits of the International Crimea Platform, hosted in Croatia (2022), the Czech Republic (2023), and Latvia (2024), have demonstrated the powerful role of parliaments in reinforcing international solidarity and addressing global challenges collectively.

We are committed to sustaining this positive dynamic and are honoured to extend to you an invitation to the Fourth Parliamentary Summit of the International Crimea Platform, co-organised by Ukraine and Sweden, which will take place in Stockholm on 23-24 November 2025.

The event will begin with a gala dinner on the evening of 23 November. A detailed programme, logistical information, and organizer contact points will be shared in due course, along with a registration link to be circulated in August to ensure smooth planning and coordination.

We are confident that your presence will send a powerful message of unity and determination — a message that the world will not accept the erosion of the rules-based international order, and that peace rooted in justice is possible.

Sincerely,

Ruslan STEFANCHUK

Chairman of the Verkhovna Rada of Ukraine
